

The Kingston Daily Freeman.

XLVII.—No. 18.

CITY OF KINGSTON, N. Y., WEDNESDAY EVENING, NOVEMBER 7, 1917.

PRICE TWO CENTS.

KINGSTON ENDORSES MAYOR CANFIELD

Plurality of 1,472 Shows That the City Has Confidence in Its Mayor and the Businesslike Policies He Has Pursued in the Government of the City.

Mayor Palmer Canfield, Jr., was re-elected mayor for the third term by the overwhelming majority of 1,472 votes. His running mate, Samuel M. Watts, was elected alderman-at-large by a majority of 1,140 votes. Eight Republican aldermen were also elected giving the Republicans a majority of three in the common council.

The only Democratic victory in the city for an important office was that of Harry E. Schrick of Former Mayor Irwin's law office, who defeated Recorder Andrew J. Lang by 128 votes for the office of city judge. Mr. Schrick's election from all indications was due to the fact that the Democratic organization centered its entire attack on Recorder Lang, making every effort to elect Mr. Schrick in which they succeeded. A big item in the defeat of Recorder Lang was the majority of 270 votes given Mr. Schrick in the Second ward, where Mr. Schrick resides. Recorder Lang, however, deserves great credit for the fight he put up. That he went down to defeat is no reflection upon him, but due entirely to the support given Mr. Schrick by the Democratic organization under the able direction of Mr. Irwin.

The vote in detail in the city is given below. The figures in the first column being for the Republican candidate:

ANOTHER SAFEGUARD FOR OUR SOLDIERS

Any movement that will in any actual way safeguard the moral health of our men, keeping them clean and wholesome, and that will keep before them those high ideals of Christianity, humanity and democracy for which they are fighting, needs to be supported to its fullest efficiency by those of us who stay at home, so far unmolested. We all know what splendid work is being done by the Y. M. C. A. at the cantonments and at the front within the lines. Perhaps many of us do not realize that work of a like character, but just outside the cantonments and just back from the front, is being done by the Salvation Army. For years men who have had the supervision of big contract camps have learned that it is by no means enough to "clean house" carefully within these camps. The region outside the camps, but adjacent to them must be kept clear and decent, if what has been done within is not to be greatly lessened in its lasting effect.

One other matter is vitally important. It is so recognized by all of our thinking men today, whether in big business, military or ordinary walks of life. That is the spiritual side of this great war problem. Unless we, as a people, our men as the fighting forces, keep that side constantly in mind, as the one great safeguard against the very things we are fighting in our enemy, we cannot hope to win this war. It is recognized as a war for righteousness and that vision must not be lost.

The Salvation Army has already done a vast amount of good for men in the regions just outside the lines, whether of cantonment or trench, in that they have left no "house swept and garnished," but have instead prepared and operated real home spots, called huts, where, both the morals and the religious life of the men have been cared for and in that caring the men have openly expressed their appreciation.

But this work, like all similar work, needs funds. So Commander Evangeline Booth has made an appeal for $1,000,000 for its furtherance at home and abroad. Kingston's share will be the insignificant sum of $1,750. The campaign to raise this fund will begin within a few weeks, and the Salvation Army has asked the press of the community to make this advance announcement that they may be prepared for the actual move.

Then the diner resolutely returned it to his plate and scraped some of it upon his bread. "I take thee," he said, "for butter or worse."

NOT REAL BUSTLE

New Dress Feature Not So Startling as Name Indicates.

Bulge Obtained by Arrangement of Material in the Skirt Is Not for the Stout Woman.

Announcement that the "bustle dress" had again arrived caused quite a furore. There is now every indication that it will have considerable vogue.

The public has almost become surfeited with straight-line "chemise" frocks, and the "barrel silhouette" has also enjoyed two seasons of life, so that a new silhouette is naturally welcomed. It is well to emphasize, however, that the bustle dress is becoming only to women at least of medium height and of slender figure. Worn by a "stout" woman, the bustle dress even in its very moderate form would be grotesque and hopelessly unbecoming, says a fashion writer in the Washington Star. But the side flare of the "barrel" skirt, if selected with care, could be worn by any woman, and the same rule applies to the straight-line chemise frock.

The bustle dress is really not so startling as first announcements indicated. When made of any of the wool fabrics, it usually consists of two, three or four loops, laid one over the other, like sash ends, gathered and plaited into the waist at the top, so that a slight bulge is effected, which seems larger by contrast with the narrow, straight skirt it is a part of. Or, large tucks may be similarly treated, with an apron overskirt or tunic of some sort joining the tucks at either side and continuing around the front of the skirt.

When taffeta or satin is used, frequently a long apron overskirt covers the skirt in front, and is sloped and draped at the sides, so that when the

THY NEIGHBOR

By LOIS WOOD.

Linnelle moved into his bachelor apartments on the 19th of the month. He had had a suite down at the exclusive Watermere, on Washington square, when Alston & Co. gave him the order for a book. It was to deal with New York life on the group system, showing how the city was divided into little neighborhood villages, especially among the poor.

Young Alston had suggested that he move over to the East side and study conditions among the submerged tenth at first hand. It had not appealed to Linnelle. He was not of the tramp-poet variety. Even while he liked to be a denizen of the old Greenwich village, still his quarters were on the north side of the square. But it came to pass that he became an inmate—he would not call it resident—of the Diggs apartments.

At some time Mr. Diggs had felt the weight of millions preying upon his mind and had placed model apartments for the deserving poor in their midst on the East side.

After the third day in his new lodgings the monotony palled on him. He had prowled around the neighborhood and made the alarming discovery that instead of being in the midst of thugs and night hawks he was in the midst of highly respectable old settlers. Instead of their belag peculiar to their kind, they regarded him as a rara avis.

He was buying green peppers and fresh tomatoes from the little Greek Mario at the corner and answering his questions idly, when he became aware of another customer who seemed highly amused at his inquisition.

"You stay very long?" asked Mario. "For awhile."

"What do you do for a living? Write? Play the music? Paint? Sculpt? No? Just professor, huh?"

Linnelle felt his face redden as the girl smiled.

"Must one give an excuse for living here?" he asked.

And Mario let it pass. Hearing the girl give her address for the delivery of goods, Linnelle realized that he had a neighbor. He caught one swift glance from big gray eyes that smiled at him as he passed on. When his own goods were delivered via the dumb-waiter there was another basket thereon. Just as he was starting to write down a new idea, his telephone bell started to ring. It was his neighbor. Mario had told her he had left her goods with Mr. Linnelle, apartment 12. Would he be kind enough to let her have them?

Linnelle smoked savagely on his return. She had been smiling at him again in that cool, appraising, amused way. He plunged at his work with avidity, trying to banish the memory of a slim young person in a rose linen smock with curly, dark hair.

He made the discovery the next morning that from his window on the inner court he could look over at her windows. Quite against his instinct of good taste he found himself doing so constantly. She had window boxes where spring bulbs bloomed profusely.

She came twice a day to water her plants. Then she would stand for a long while looking steadfastly up at the square patch of sky five stories above. He used to wonder if she could be a sunworshiper. The shaft of sunlight just struck her windows as it shone aslant down the court, and she drank it in even as her flowers did. So passed the weeks and their acquaintance ripened.

His book was nearing completion toward the middle of the summer. He had dinner at a little Turkish restaurant on Twenty-sixth street. It was nearly nine when he put his passkey in the lock of his own door.

"Oh! Mr. Linnelle." It was Marjorie Fraser, her face pale and anxious. "I wonder if I could ask you to come and look at my window. I just got home myself, and it looks as if someone had entered the apartment." Linnelle followed her down the hall.

In her little living room the crimson curtains and daffodil valance lay in a crumpled heap on the floor, the upper window pane had a round hole through its center.

"Do you think anyone is here?" she asked, standing in the doorway. For answer Linnelle glanced around quickly and picked up a baseball that had rolled under the steam heater.

"There's your burglar," he laughed and laid it on the table. "I'll be so glad when this is over," she said. "I've soaked in local atmosphere until I'm sick and tired of it, and I want to go home. You see Mr. Linnelle, I'm an actress and I have a perfectly dandy part in Carruthers' new production, 'Children of Clay.' I only came down here to live and catch the spirit of the East side. If it hadn't been for you living so near to me I'd have been scared to death."

"If it hadn't been for you living so near to me I'd have been bored to death," returned Linnelle. "Come up to the roof. I want to tell you there." And they went on up the five flights of stairs together.

"I might have known that you would have refused me," said the poor but otherwise honest young man, who had failed to make an impression on the maiden's heart. "I noticed a metallic ring in your voice when I entered the parlor tonight, that bode me no good."

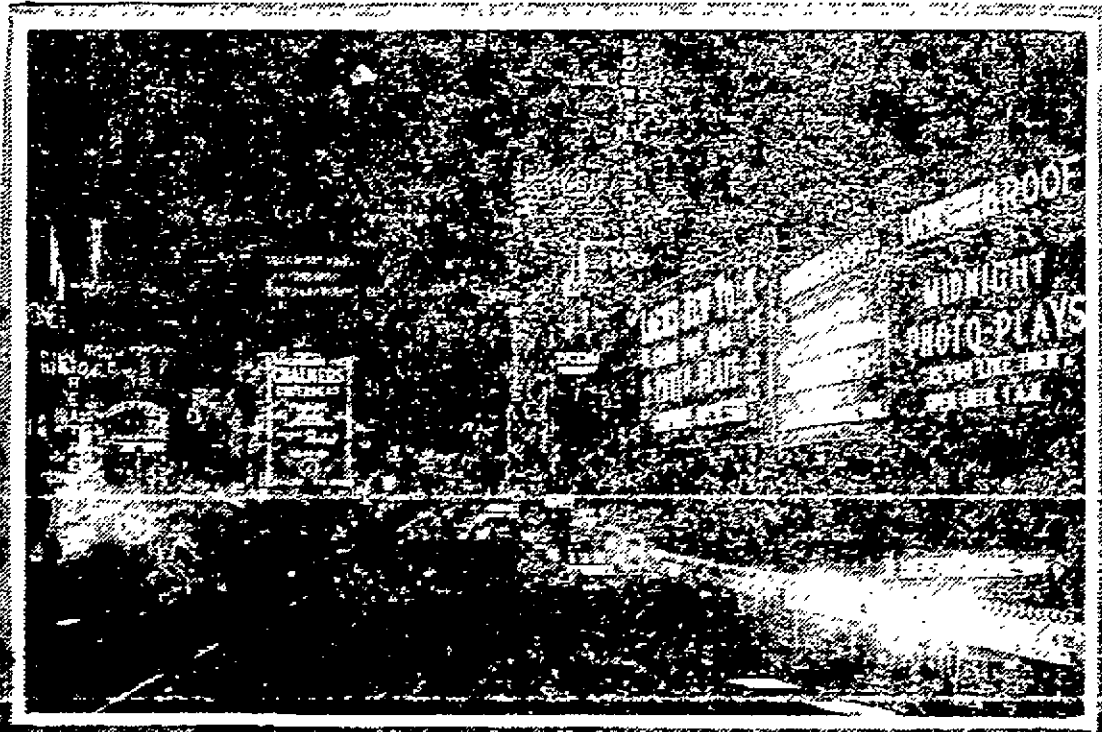

"And had you been a little more observant," she replied, "you would also have observed a metallic ring on my third finger, which Charlie Gotrox placed there last night."

Thirty seconds later his feet were following each other along the homeward trail.

DOUBLE MENACE ON ITALIAN FRONT.

Heavy attacks have been launched by Teuton troops in the Giudicaria region of the Trentino front, northwest of Lake Garda. It is believed they preface a drive on this part of the Italian front to prevent Cardona from sending reinforcements to the armies now standing on the Tagliamento. The Austro-German forces are exerting pressure on the extreme left of the Italians in this region.

LIFE IN CANADA AVIATION CAMP

Interesting Letter From Member of British Royal Flying Corps Telling of Life in Canadian Barracks.

The following letter from Douglas Y. McClellan was received recently by W. D. Hale of this city, postmarked Toronto, Canada. The writer of it has many friends in Kingston, where his wife, nee Miss Belle Larier, was a well-known and popular young lady before her marriage:

Sunday

Dear Mr. Hale:
Just a few lines to let you and L know that I am in the land of the living. Notwithstanding I am in the British Royal Flying Corps. Have been in Canada a little over two months and have learned considerable in that time about army life, both in camp and barracks. On arriving in Toronto, August 2nd, we were met at the R. R. station by one of the R. F. C. and escorted to Stanley Barracks, located here;
then we were put through a trade test, so that the army officials could get a line as to our fitness for the place we enlisted.

After that we were marched to barracks in another building (formerly public school) and next day given our uniforms. All civilian clothes were to be disposed of at once. Some sent them back home, others sold them and others gave them to the Red Cross or other form of charity.

On obtaining uniforms, everything had to be marked with our number such as my own viz 73,412
after which we were always known.
Our bunks were in the class rooms of the school—a platform raised one foot from the floor 6x12-6" out of which they would get a lower and with pieces of joist made another overhead giving 4 more bunks—so throughout the various rooms.

Four blankets were issued to us out of which we made our beds and here we stayed for four or five days with another clerk. I was put in the Quartermaster's Department, where we stayed until a batch of us were sent out of the city to a camp where we were under all camp restrictions.

Here 6 to 8 men were put in one round tent with a wooden platform in two sections, which we washed and turned up on end to dry. All beds (3 each) and blankets properly folded were put out in front of each tent on a indicated line to remain there all day.

While there we had an inspection
by the officer commanding, Lord Pembroke, during which we were ordered to open up kits in detail.

In camp we had morning and afternoon drill, guard duty and occasional fatigue. Reveille was at 5:30
a. m., by six buglers which always came to be one thing, distinctly different from the alarm.

After we were awakened from 4 to 4:30 by aeroplanes flying overhead—in fact they were in the air all day long.

One day we observed one or two planes far above the clouds occasionally hidden from view.

Last evening while dining with several of the boys at a restaurant in town another R. F. C., sat down opposite me and told me during the conversation that he had been up in the air nine times and from his description, it was a pleasant experience. He said that was less motion than going up in a balloon about 2,500 feet was the highest he reached. Have been alongside of different planes as they started to arise; some get away easily and others have their troubles.

During meal hours we parade and roll call, then march off two deep and file along outside of cook house,
the meals being handed out of different windows, then we file along to the mess hall then, now in a large tent. The canteen has been very well patronized both at the camp as well as in barracks.

Those of us who remain here all winter will enjoy winter sports,
such as skating, hockey matches,
concerts and other amusements
given weekly in canteens.

Toronto City is practically Prohibition, only beer with 2 per cent alcohol can be sold—no liquors of any kind.

The higher officers are very particular on saluting whether in barracks or not, so we always have to be on the alert, particularly on a crowded street.

We are drilled in company formation two ranks of men about 25
in each rank in saluting all together while marching and also while at the halt.

Up here we are now preparing for the winter, huge clothes are being put up in the barracks and other buildings are being put in shape.

When the weather gets real cold and we do not feel inclined to go out of the barracks, the canteen is large enough to allow two hundred to gather together in comfort.

Recently we had moving pictures of various stories and scenes, including some war pictures: the American Squadron arriving in British waters.

What the Y. M. C. A. Does.

Saturday, October 27, 1917.
At present I am continuing this fragmentary letter in the soldiers' club room of the main Y. M. C. A. building in Toronto, having just had a fine hot and cold shower bath.

The Y. M. C. A. has done more lookout for the soldiers' comfort in every conceivable way. The res-more than cost.

A soldier's mail can be taken care of if he so desires, cots are put up in the large rooms of the building for soldiers who have obtained wees end passes and do not care to spend what the hotels wish to charge you.
The Red Cross recently raised over half a million dollars right here in Toronto and this after the people had given liberally to many other war funds.

America is following suit in many ways in making the best use of funds raised to alleviate those suffering from the result of the war.

In September I made a prediction that the war would end by August 1, 1918 or thereabouts. I based it on various things too many to mention. I may be way off in my prophecy, let us hope not.

Have heard indirectly from one of our boys here that those who recently we sent of Texas from here do not like things in general down there
—a case of out of the frying pan into the fire.

I recently had the pleasure of taking dinner with some friends of some of my New York friends—English people, Belle recently had a call from them. Met them at Overseas Club of which I am a member.
At this dinner a sergeant major only a few days returned from the war, after three years' service told some stirring tales and said all that has been said about the terrible atrocities committed by the Huns are only too true—telling of some no personally knew about.

Belle has been very faithful in keeping me posted on all news from home. She spoke of you and Lotte visiting at E. O. The coming great event of Helen's keeps things very active at 196.

I hope to get my furlough when the marriage takes place. Have carried this in my pocket, so please excuse. Hope you are both well.

Yours faithfully
DOUGLAS Y. MCCLELLAN.

MAKING PROFIT FROM MARES

Doubtful if Any Class of Live Stock is Capable of Paying Better Rate of Income.

A good team of brood mares requires a considerable investment, but it is doubtful if any class of live stock is capable of paying a better rate of income. If, however, the mares should prove to be only "every-second-year" breeders, they would not be so profitable as if they brought colts each year. By breeding such mares in the fall one has a chance to average two colts in three years from each mare, which is better than getting only one colt in two years.

Oftentimes the mare suckling a fall colt is not needed for work through the winter and the mare and colt can run out through the day. This requires one of the necessity of having to keep the colt shut in a box-stall while the mare is at work as in the case with the spring colt. Also, some stallions stand at a reduced fee in the fall.

Last Stand of Beavers

Far up in the fastnesses of the southern Rockies, hidden in one of the most inaccessible nooks that remain in this country today, what is probably the largest existing colony of beavers has established itself for a last stand.
The beaver was once one of the most abundant of our American animals, but the ease with which he was trapped and the value of his fur soon drove him far on the road to extinction. Soon only the most stringent of protective legislation was able to save him, but now he seems to be "coming back,"
and wherever he finds a favorable location he increases rapidly.

Typesetter Made a Guess.

In the getting out of the first number of a new English magazine in Tokyo a proofreader discovered that the number 40,000 had been printed 39,000.
On inquiring through an interpreter how such an odd mistake could have occurred, the proofreader said: "I can imagine a mistake of 20,000 or 30,000 being made, but how could he get 39-000 instead of 40,000?" The typesetter's reply was: "I had no '4' at the moment, so I calculated that 39,000 would be nearer the right amount than any other figure."

PITY POOR COPS TOO MUCH EXERCISE

Simple Calisthenics Causes Them to Lose Weight—Have Petitioned Police Board to "Cut it Out."

If you have noticed any members of the police force growing thin and haggard and if they complain of pains in the back and other such ailments you will become acquainted with the fact that the calisthenics the members of Kingston's finest have been getting at the local Y. M. C. A. has proven too much for that "sturdy" body of men.

To get down to the story it seems that some time ago the police board following the example set by New York city and other cities in having the members of its police force take a certain amount of bodily exercise decided that the local officers of the force should be given the same treatment, and arrangements were made with the local Y. M. C. A. whereby the cops were to report there once a week for some simple calisthenics such as school boys are being given daily.

For the first few weeks or months, the cops liked the exercise and nothing was heard until some of the men thought that they were getting too much exercise, and their views were circulated and talked over.

This led to the cops beginning to compare their pet ailments with each other and the "starling" discovery was made that one man had a "crack in the back" another had lost eight pounds and rumor has it that one man suffered with toothache due to the "heavy" work of setting up exercises. He had gone through. Another "found" his muscles were getting "flabby" and one man who has made a study of athletics by reading an athletic magazine for the past eighteen years decided that all the exercise he needed was to read his magazine when it is issued.

Judging from the fact that exercise once a week has led the force to becoming decrepit the decision has been reached that that fact should be communicated with all haste to the police board and so forthwith a petition was drawn up and submitted to that honorable body asking them to discontinue the rules making it necessary for the men to go to the Y. M. C. A. once a week and be allowed to take their exercise in other ways.

One method suggested is to equip the retiring room at the city hall with easy rocking chairs and let the force take their exercise in that way.

So far it is understood the police board has not acted upon the cop's petition.

There is no use questioning any member of Kingston's finest regarding the petition or the police board for no information is forthcoming. In closing it may be said, however, that rumor has it that there is at least one cop who has not signed the petition. There may be a few others, however.

NEW PALTZ.

New York Nov. 6.—Perry Deyo has purchased the entire apple crop of R. E. DuBois.

The Schulte people are enlarging their factory at Highland so that it will be about twice as large as now. The fact is interesting to any of this section who are putting out grape vines in large quantities.

Mrs. Hiram Deyo and children of this place spent the week-end at Walden.

C. M. Harcourt has been spending some time with his son, Alfred Harcourt, at his beautiful home at Oakwood Heights, Mount Vernon, N. Y. Lewis Pelen spent the week-end at his home west of this village. Mr. Pelen teaches in one of the New York schools.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Reformed Church will hold a nickel to a dollar sale sometime in December. All the women of the church are requested to donate to this sale without further solicitation. They will leave the household articles at Mrs. Eliza Pelen's on Chestnut street and the fancy articles at Mrs. D. A. Hasbrouck's on South Chestnut street.

A farewell surprise was given Miss Mildred Deyo, of Clintonville, more of Mrs. Charles Harp, of this village, on Saturday last by the Sunshine Bearers' Society and Sunday school class, both of which she is a member. Mrs. Deyo left Newburgh first to enter the training school for nurses at St. Luke's Hospital in Newburgh.

Miss Gertrude Woolsey, who graduated from the Normal here in 1911, and from Pratt's Institute last spring, has accepted the position of art instructor in the Kingston High School. She was a volunteer nurse at the Ambulance Hospital at Neuilly, France, during the summer.

The "dry rally" at the New Paltz Opera House on Sunday evening was a big success. The three speakers of the evening, Rev. M. V. Oggel, Rev. Mr. Williams, and Rev. James Douglas, were in fine fettle and it is certain that many dry votes were clinched among the large audience. A good singing hymn was sung first, and then Rev. Mr. Williams put up some forceful arguments in favor of a dry town. He compared the two principles clashing in this war, Imperialism and Democracy, as drunkenness and sobriety. He said that, although the Revolutionary and Civil Wars cleared up our own board and lifted aloft the torch of liberty, it remained for us in this war to carry it throughout the world. It was a fine scholarly address. The young boys of the churches sang a stirring song in a stirring manner, which was followed by the chief address of the evening, Rev. M. V. Oggel, answering in plain terms the arguments of the "wets." He took them one by one and cleaned them up so that there could not have been any doubt left as to who was the victor. It was a complete annihilation of their arguments. The singing by the young people was then enjoyed, with Charlotte Douglas, Frances Elmore and Florence Bauer doing pleasing part work. Rev. James Douglas spoke in a convincing manner in favor of woman suffrage and no license, claiming that the two went hand in hand. Today the men are entering the polls, and the effect of this meeting and the many others will be seen when the results are published.

Oscar Parlihan has left the employ of Joseph Walker and entered that of the Arducke Farms.

Monday evening Frank Eugene Howard, ex-convict 11,221, spoke in the New Paltz opera house in favor of no license. He told of his own personal experiences and life as a victim of rum. He appealed to everyone of the large audience as no one has ever done. Rev. Chase from Kingston acted as chairman and excellent singing was furnished by a male quartet composed of George Newton, Oscar Moran, John Yeasle and Dr. Becker. Many votes were won by that meeting.

A fire alarm was rung in while the dry meeting at the opera house was under way and the fire proved to be a small hay pile near Feinberg's saloon. It was easily put out and the men all flocked into the hall afterward to hear Mr. Howard.

An interesting meeting of the Huguenot Grange was held in their rooms on Saturday evening. Mr. Hook, of the Farm Bureau, spoke. Refreshments were served.

FINAL STEPS FOR Y. M. C. A. CAMPAIGN

The executive committee of the Ulster County General Committee, Y. M. C. A. War Fund Campaign, met yesterday to take the final steps in organizing for the $25,000,000 campaign next week. Mayor Canfield, president and others present were John D. Schoonmaker, Harry H. Flemming, Frank R. Powley, William C. Shafer, Martin Cantino, Major Everett.

It was decided to hold the opening campaign dinner Saturday evening of this week to which will be invited all the general committee, over 100 in number, and all the team captains and team workers. Mayor Canfield will preside, and the principal speaker will be Secretary Hugh A. Moran, who will be Secretary of the Y. M. C. A. in Russia and among the Russian soldiers. Mr. Moran is a graduate of Leland Stanford University, and received the first Rhodes scholarship from that college to Oxford University. He was for five years secretary of the international committee in China and went through the great Chinese Revolution in 1911. Later he travelled as secretary of the student department in the United States. He travelled with the Root Commission throughout their stay in Russia as special aid to Dr. McT. Mr. Moran is a good speaker and well informed upon matters relating to the war. The gathering of Ulster county representatives a business men on Saturday morning will be worthy of this exceptional man.

OUR DAILY PATTERN.

1425.—A Practical Convenient Model
—Ladies' House Dress, With Long or Short Sleeve.

For utility, comfort and convenience, this design has much to commend it. It closes in coat style, with the centre fronts overlapping. This assures easy and practical adjustment. An ample pocket is arranged over the side front. The waist is finished with a neat collar, and with cuffs for sleeve in short length. The long sleeve is dart fitted. The dart fullness may be cut away and the opening, thus made, be finished with a facing and underlap for buttons and buttonholes or other fasteners; then the sleeve may be turned back over the arm when desired. The pattern is good for gingham, percale, lawn, seersucker, solefette, madras, flannel, drill or linen. It is cut in 7 sizes: 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44 inches bust measure. It requires 6 1/2 yards of 36 inch material for a 36 inch size.

The KITCHEN CABINET

It's easy to sit in a carriage and counsel the man that's afoot. But get down and walk and you'll change your talk, when you feel the tack in your boot.

DISHES IN SEASON.

Cut the centers from finger rolls, fill with creamed chicken, mushrooms or sweetbreads. Set into the oven and toast the top. Garnish with parsley.

Hot Cheese Sandwiches.—Cut the bread thin, butter the slices and lay a slice of cheese on each.

season with salt, pepper, and a pinch of mustard. Place the sandwiches in a toaster and toast both sides a delicate brown.

Sweet Pickled Muskmelons.—This is a good way to use underripe melons; cut in slices and remove the rind and seed portion. To each quart of water add a fourth of a cupful of salt; pour this over the sliced melon and let stand overnight. Drain and put to cook in boiling salted water. Cook but a few pieces at a time and remove as soon as they are tender. If cooked longer they will be mushy. For seven pounds of melon make a sirup using four pounds of sugar, three cupfuls of vinegar, half a cupful of cloves, a cupful of cinnamon bark. Pour over the melon and let stand overnight, then drain off the sirup, pack the melon in jars, reduce the sirup by boiling and fill the jars.

Bordeaux Sauce.—Take four quarts finely chopped cabbage, two quarts of finely chopped green tomatoes, six quarts of finely-chopped red peppers, six quarts of finely-chopped onions, two pounds of sugar, one-half cupful of salt, two quarts of vinegar, one ounce of mustard seed, one-half ounce of celery seed, one-half ounce of turmeric. Mix well and boil two hours. This recipe may be quartered for a smaller amount.

Puree of Summer Squash.—Slice three onions and cover with two quarts of cold water; when it boils add the squash cut in thin slices. Let simmer slowly for two hours, then rub through a sieve. Mix one tablespoonful of ground rice, one cupful of milk and one tablespoonful of butter in a saucepan and when hot add to the soup. Add two tablespoonfuls of green peas, season well and serve piping hot.

FATHER HAROLD AT ST. MARY'S

Confession—Can a Priest Forgive Sins?—Subject of Tonight's Lecture by Father Harold in St. Mary's Church.

What promises to be the most interesting lecture to many hearers in the course now being delivered by the Rev. Father Harold will be given tonight. The subject of the lecture will be "Confession—Can a Priest Forgive Sins?" Following an explanation of the Catholic doctrine relative to the forgiveness of sin, the lecturer will give the Biblical reasons for the sacrament of penance as it has been administered at all times in the Catholic Church. He will also show how thoroughly in accord with the needs of human nature is the doctrine of auricular confession.

"The Best Thing in the Catholic Church," was the subject of last night's lecture. "The worst thing in the church," said Father Harold, "is the bad Catholic who by his sinful life is either abusing his great and many spiritual opportunities or indifferent by neglecting them. He is ruining his own soul and by scandalous example is rendering himself an obstacle in the way of others." It was the lecturer's purpose to prove that the real presence of Christ in the Eucharist is the best thing in the Catholic religion. He explained the doctrine of the church and proceeded to prove from the testimony of the four evangelists, St. John, Luke, Mark and Matthew. As a confirmation of the words of the Gospel writers Father Harold quoted the words of St. Paul to the Corinthians, where in he states that he had directly received from Jesus Christ Himself this very doctrine as it has been received and taught by the church for the past nineteen centuries. The lecture was concluded with a clear statement of the reasonableness of supernatural mysteries particularly in view of the many mysteries of nature with which we are daily confronted and which we unquestionably accept.

After the lecture Father Harold read and answered some questions pertaining to certain doctrines and practices of the Catholic religion.

DADDY'S EVENING LARRY TALK

BY MARY GRAHAM BONNER

TWO PIGEONS.

The day was very windy, and high in the air two pigeons were flying. One was a lovely blue one and the other was blue and gray.

"Hello, coo-coo," said Mr. Blue Pigeon.

"Hello, coo-coo," said Miss Gray Pigeon. Although she was both blue and gray she was always known as Miss Gray Pigeon.

"Don't go so fast, coo-coo," said Mr. Blue Pigeon. "Let me join you. The wind almost carries us along. We don't need to hurry so."

Now Miss Gray Pigeon didn't really want to hurry. She was only pretending she was in a great hurry. She wanted Mr. Blue Pigeon to follow her, for she had long admired his blue feathers and his collar of blue and green which shone in the bright sunlight.

"Let's sit on the eaves under yonder window," said Mr. Blue Pigeon, as he caught up with Miss Gray Pigeon. "I have something I want to tell you."

Miss Gray Pigeon was all of a flutter. What could Mr. Blue Pigeon want to say to her? She hoped—and yet she hardly dared hope so much.

He was such a very handsome pigeon and though she was lovely herself, still she didn't think she was nearly so fine as Mr. Blue Pigeon.

They settled down on the eaves under the window, and Mr. Blue Pigeon began to coo lovely little songs to her. They were quite the sweetest songs Miss Gray Pigeon had ever heard though they were the same songs which pigeons have sung to each other for years and years—as many years as there have been pigeons—and that means a great many years.

The names of the songs are called the "Pigeon Coo Songs" and Mr. Blue Pigeon had a beautiful soft voice.

"I love you so much," he said, and Miss Gray Pigeon said:

"Coo, coo, I love you too!"

"Then," said Mr. Blue Pigeon. "I want you to make your home with me. I shall hunt for goodies for us to eat."

"Hello, Coo, Coo," Said Mr. Blue Pigeon.

and we'll be so happy. We will coo all day long—that is when we're not eating and bathing and flying. And sometimes we will coo even then."

Miss Gray Pigeon was very happy. She was very much flattered and honored too. For a long time they sat on the eaves under the window and after a while Mr. Blue Pigeon said: "We must get our wedding breakfast now. Come! Coo, coo, coo, I'll look for it!" They flew down to the ground together. And what should they see before them but a regular feast!

Some children had left crumbs and other delicious things that pigeons love, on the ground. They had seen the pigeons and thought perhaps they might be hungry.

"Look!" said Miss Gray Pigeon. "You have a surprise for me! Here is our wedding feast all ready!"

"I didn't do this," said Mr. Blue Pigeon very truthfully. "I think some lovely children did this for us. I have seen some children around here lately, and they have seemed so friendly. I have been a little afraid of them but I am sure I will never feel afraid again."

From all around other pigeons joined the wedding feast. "This is our wedding day," said Mr. Blue Pigeon. "That's why we are having a feast."

And the pigeons all ate and nibbled at the crumbs as if they had never had such a feast before in all their lives.

Now when the children came back they saw all the crumbs had gone, and all the pigeons had flown away, except Mr. Blue Pigeon and Miss Gray Pigeon.

"Coo, coo, thank you, thank you," said Mr. Blue Pigeon and Miss Gray Pigeon.

"Nice pigeons, good pigeons," said the children.

They were afraid that the pigeons would fly off. But not at all! They had grown quite tame. And such friends as they all became!

Every morning the children gave the pigeons food, and for some wonderful reason, they couldn't understand—two pigeons were especially tame, and would let the children stroke their soft heads while they said, "Coo, coo."

But the real reason was that Mr. Blue Pigeon and Miss Gray Pigeon had been given a wedding feast by the children and they showed their thanks by being tame and by acting like real pets for their devoted children friends.

Wanted to Know.

Charles, aged five, having been told that baby sister had just arrived from heaven, marched into the room and said: "Now, Miss Baby, tell us all about heaven 'fore you forget it!"

One of the Old School.

"I suppose you want rubber tires?" said the carriage man to a parsimonious old fellow who was inspecting several vehicles with a view to buying one. "No, sir," said the old man. "My folks ain't that kind. When they're ridin' they want to know it!"—Life.

Relative and friends are invited to attend the funeral from his late home, No. 62 Summer street, Thursday morning at 9 o'clock and at 9:30 from St. Mary's Church where a high mass of requiem will be sung for the repose of his soul. Interment in St. Mary's Cemetery.

CHAMPION WRESTLER DENIES HE IS DYING

FRANK GOTCH, WHO INSISTS HE IS NOT DEAD.

The reporter who daily calls up the hospitals and morgues the other day phoned the German hospital to learn if Frank Gotch, the champion wrestler, was still to be counted in the census. He had been reported as seriously ill.

"I'd like to inquire about Mr. Gotch's health," he confided to the operator at the hospital.

"Just a minute, please," she answered, as she connected the scribbler with the alleged dying man's room.

"Is Mr. Gotch's condition very serious?" asked the reporter.

"Rats, no," answered a man with a husky voice. "And, furthermore, if they don't let me out of here soon, I'm going to pull a Douglas Fairbanks and escape."

"Who is this talking?"

"Gotch himself, Frank Gotch; I'm not sick at all."

"Well, they report you as dying with kidney trouble."

"Zatso? Well, I have got a kink in my back from leading logs back in Iowa. That's all. And I'm not letting a few bantamweight logs down me."

RUBBER IN GOLF BALL

Did you ever study a golf ball?

Almost one mile of thread rubber is necessary in the making of the globe. The rubber which reaches the factory in the crude state is cooked, then rolled into sheets and finally cut into threads. The thread then is placed on a huge bobbin and automatic machines wind 1,536 yards of it onto the little core which forms the golf ball.

The next process in the making of the object which causes so much worry is the applying of the gutta percha cover. This reaches the factory in raw state. It is treated so that the resin is completely extracted. Then it is masticated and washed. Next it is put into a roller which squeezes out the moisture. A machine then cuts the sheets into sizes for the covers and an automatic device clamps the covers on the rubber core.

A braiding machine is the next to receive the golf ball. This creates those funny little holes or bumps.

OUTFIELDER IN TRICK PLAY

Amos Strunk of Philadelphia Athletics Makes Putout at First—Two Other Instances.

Something out of the ordinary is for an outfielder to make the putout on a player who is caught off first by a pitcher. Amos Strunk, Athletic center fielder, was the hero of a stunt of this kind in a game played in Washington on June 20. The victim was Charley Jamieson, whom Grif tried to remake into a pitcher this season and who now has gone back to outfielding.

"Rube" Schauer detected Jamieson taking too long a lead off first in the eighth inning and his throw to McInnis started a run-down play that was completed when Strunk, who helped

ed in it, tagged Jamieson on the line and the back.

A trick American league outfielders apparently have forgotten is to sneak in from center and help trap a man off second. Two guardians of the middle mesa have accomplished such a feat—Fris Speaker, when he was playing with the Red Sox against the Indians, and Jesse Clyde Milam of the Nationals, against the Red Sox. They received throws from the backstops and plastered said throws on the ribs of "Doc" Johnston and Larry Gardner.

Speaker tricked Johnston on June 7, 1913; Milam hoodwinked Gardner on July 7, 1915.

KEEP YOUR TEMPER IN GAME

Football Is Not Dangerous Game to Young Man Who Is in Shape to Withstand Knocks.

"Above all, tempers should be kept under control," says Walter Camp, the famous football trainer and critic, in an article in American Boy. "Football is a clean sport for clean players. If bad temper results in a foul, the entire team suffers. Hold your temper and play the game."

Mr. Camp declares that football is not a dangerous game to the boy or young man who is in proper shape to withstand its hard knocks. "Of course there is some element of risk," he says, "but that holds true of every vigorous sport. Players are hurt at baseball and basketball as well as at football. The boy who has been sitting around all summer taking things easy and getting soft is in no shape to play the game. Under no circumstances should he be allowed to take part in scrimmages until he has been hardened. When injuries do occur, the soft, untrained player is usually the victim. Well-conditioned boys, all things considered, have little to fear."

GET BEST FIELDING RECORD

Lincoln Team of Western League Went Through 57 Innings in August Without Error.

The best fielding record for the season so far as known was that made by the Lincoln team of the Western league which went 57 innings in August without an error being made. Included in this was a 21-inning game played and won by Lincoln.

Name Racer for Him.

Theodore Rousseau, secretary to Mayor Mitchell of New York, has had a race horse named for him. William I. Salmon, who recently purchased the French-bred colt by Sardanspel from Delbert Reid, conferred the honor.

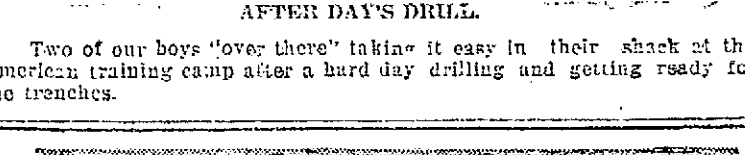

Good Team on Road.

The Cincinnati Reds were better than a 500 team on the road. This season they won 39 and lost 38 games on foreign fields.

Jordan, personal aide to General Duval, and Colonel Hugh J. Gallagher, Quartermaster General of the Southeastern Department. General Duval was recalled from the retired list to take his present command. He is shown en route to his headquarters at Charleston, S. C.

WHERE NINETEEN DIED IN FIRE THAT DESTROYED MISSION.

Nineteen lodges lost their lives, and thirty-four were injured, when fire swept through the Salvation Army Rescue Mission in Paterson, N. J. There were eighty-seven men, most of them homeless, asleep in the building when the fire broke out. The victims had little chance for escape, the majority being burned to death in their beds, so quickly did the flames envelop the building. Several were badly injured by jumping from the third or fourth story windows to the life nets held by firemen below. Many thrilling rescues were made by policemen and firemen.

Found Answer in His Sleep.

Mathematical students will be interested in the experience of the Marquis de Condorcet, who published a volume on the integral calculus at the age of twenty-two. A problem had been submitted to him which, try as he might, he could not solve. To use his colloquialism, he "went to sleep on it," and "unconsciously obtained the answer," which he remembered on waking.

Army Orders.

Sergeant-Major—"Now, Private Smith, you know very well none but officers and noncommissioned officers are allowed to walk across the grass."

Private Smith—"But, Sergeant-Major, I've Captain Graham's verbal orders to—"

Sergeant-Major—"None of that, sir. Show me the captain's verbal orders. Show 'em to me, sir!"—Liverpool Post.

BUSY DAYS AT THE LOCAL POSTOFFICE

The week before election was a busy week at the postoffice here. There was the usual large number of election circulars sent through the mails, and the last two or three days of October and the first day of this month, to add to the rush of the election mail, there was an unusually large number of letters and cards handled, as people were taking advantage of the little time left before the increase in the postal rates which went into effect here on November 2.

For a day or two after the new postage rates some persons thoughtlessly mailed their letters with but a two-cent stamp, and the new law requires three cents postage on letters, except a few letters, that is, letters mailed in the city for delivery in the city. Some postals were also mailed without the extra penny postage required by the new law. However, after a day or two everything ran smoothly and practically no letters or postals have been held for lack of the extra postage.

Postmaster William C. DeWitt today complimented Assistant Postmaster E. E. Oughette, and the employees of the postoffice and the branch postoffices upon the efficiency shown in handling the mail during the congestion.

The law which went into effect on October 1, which provides that the accounts of the postoffices in this county, except the postoffices at Saugerties, Ellenville and New Paltz, be audited at the Kingston postoffice, has brought a great deal of additions at work to the local postoffice.

CHRISTMAS PACKETS NEEDED IMMEDIATELY

Miss Sara Horton, chairman of the Red Cross Christmas packet committee, begs that some of the Kingston folks who are intending to give Christmas packets to our soldiers and sailors at home and abroad, send in to the Red Cross headquarters immediately 20 packets. It is most desirable that one big shipment be made this week, to go to France and these 20 packets are needed to complete the shipment. All other packets should be sent in with all possible speed.

ROULERS HAIG'S NEXT OBJECTIVE

By Telegram to The Freeman.
London, Nov. 7.—The Germans stand with their backs to Roulers, evidently determined to make their stand at that most important base until the last vestige of hope disappears.

With the fall of Passchendaele, there remains little or nothing to stop the Haig rush to Roulers, but five miles away.

In the opinion of British military authorities, Haig now entertains Roulers as his next objective. The city is most important to the enemy as its capture would mean a loss to the Kaiser of his chief bases for submarine operations. Ostend and Zeebrugge.

Again has the Canadian contingent covered itself with glory. Overcoming the stubborn enemy resistance, these valiant troops not only captured Passchendaele but rushed to a point 800 yards beyond its center.

The civil evacuation of Passchendaele took place several weeks ago. Reports from the Flanders front relating to Haig's victory include the capture of hundreds of Germans who continued through today to arrive at the prison cages.

With the fall of Passchendaele, the hamlets of Mosselmarkt and Goeberg also were taken from the enemy. The British official statement after making mention of the fact that the enemy had been "ordered" to hold this important position on the main ridge at all costs, added: "Before midday all our objectives had been gained and a number of prisoners taken."

"EARN AND GIVE" CAMPAIGN PLANS

At a meeting held Sunday afternoon at the Y. M. C. A. committees were formed to conduct the "Earn and Give" campaign in Ulster county as a part of the million dollar fund to be earned and given by one hundred thousand boys of the nation for American soldiers, soldiers of our allies and prisoners of war. This is part of the $35,000,000 campaign and is to be conducted November 11-19 the same time as the larger campaign.

A meeting of the committees and superintendents of Sunday schools will be held tonight at the Y. M. C. A. at 7:45 o'clock to make further plans. On Saturday night of this week boys and men are invited to hear Hugh Moran, who has been working in the Russian prison camps. Mr. Moran will speak at a mass meeting held in the gymnasium of the Y. M. C. A. at 8 o'clock. High school boys, Sunday school superintendents, principals of schools, pastors and any men doing work with boys are especially invited and urged to be present. There will be no charge for admission. Mr. Moran was with the 110th Commission in Russia as special aid to Dr. John R. Mott. He has written several magazine articles on prisoner of war camps. His message will be one of great interest.

Finding the Ship at Sea.

When the captain wishes to find the position of his ship he makes a number of determinations of the altitude of the sun with his sextant, bringing his reflection down until it grazes the horizon. The sun's place in the sky is continually changing, and every altitude means a corresponding altitude. He notes the difference between his time and the time of the port he left, or that of Greenwich, and he has his longitude. By a slightly different manipulation of the same figures he finds his latitude. A skillful person can locate a ship within a quarter of a mile of its true position.

Valuable Skins.

Eased His Conscience.

Dona Dickland when at Westminster used to tell a curious story of a brown parrot or parakeet which he received one day by post. After many wrappings had been unfolded he found a small black splinter of oak about an inch and a half long. The writer of the unsigned note accompanying the parcel said that when he was a boy, many years before he had chipped the splinter off the coronation chair. As he advanced his conscience grew troublesome, and he asked the dean to be kind enough to restore the splinter to its place.—Full Mail Gazette.

STATE ASSEMBLY
SAFELY REPUBLICAN

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Albany, Nov. 7.—Republican control of the assembly remains undisturbed as a result of yesterday's election. With a few districts in doubt today because of incomplete returns the outstanding feature of the assembly election was the big Socialist gain. Not only was Abraham I. Shipiloff, leader of the "Minority of the Minority" returned from Kings county with his one lone follower Joseph A. Whitehorn, but at least five other Socialists and possibly six won seats in the assembly.

Despite the Democratic landslide in New York city the Republicans managed to win in several assembly fights. They elected seven Republican members from Kings and four from New York county. In Erie county the Republicans elected six out of eight members.

On the face of the returns the assembly this winter will be made up of 55 Republicans, 48 Democrats and 7 Socialists.

The assembly last year was constituted of 99 Republicans, 49 Democrats and 2 Socialists.

There were many hot contests this year in up-state districts but the Republican candidates were uniformly successful. Republican members were gained in Chemung and Oneida counties and in Schenectady county, Republicans took both seats.

Speaker Thaddeus C. Sweet was returned to the assembly by his Oswego county constituents and will undoubtedly be chosen again as presiding officer of the lower house.

Knights to Dance.

Kingston Council, No. 375, Knights of Columbus, will hold the second in the series of dances at the Knights of Columbus Hall on Friday evening, Nov. 8th, at the patronage for the benefit of the church.

Supper at Flatbush.

The Flatbush Reformed Church will give a unique supper Thursday evening, Nov. 8th, at the patronage for the benefit of the church.

KATRINE GRANGERS
TALK IT OVER

Lake Katrine Grange met on Monday evening in an exceedingly busy session. Many interesting matters were discussed that were of great practical value to farmers and special committee appointed to look up other matters and report at the next meeting.

Brother Wesley Parish reported that acting on instructions given him at the last meeting he had purchased a Liberty Bond for this Grange, which brought forth prolonged cheering from those present.

Among the reports of standing committees was the following from the committees on information and education:

Reports that Senator Elton R. Brown's new department of farms and markets, having been unable to formulate any plan whereby the food speculator in the great cities can be secured in his monopoly and yet make due attention in regard to disposing of his crops and the consumer securing what he needs at a reasonable price, have called a conference at New Paltz to "coordinate the moral and social forces of the rural districts."

While one hundred and seven milk receiving stations have been closed to create an artificial scarcity of milk and put the Dairymen's League out of commission, this department of farms and markets is lecturing the farmers on the "Power of Song."

FOOD CONSERVATION MEETING THURSDAY

Tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock there will be held at the court house a very important meeting in the interest of the food conservation movement which has such an important part to play in the winning of this awful war.

Judge John G. Van Elten is at the head of the local committee having this work in charge, and all club women, and all women interested in doing their part in the saving of food, are urged to be at the court house tomorrow, when Mrs. George Stanford Atwood, field representative of the food conservation movement, will address the women and give some very valuable information.

Several days ago Sergeant Dixon of Company M asked for talking machine records suitable for the Victrola owned by the company. He has received five. He should receive more. The Freeman suggests that any one willing to give records leave them at Red Cross headquarters right away and that at the end of the week the records received be all shipped to gether, thus saving cost of transportation. Sergeant Dixon writes as follows:

Company M, 10th N. Y. Infantry, Camp Wadsworth, S. C., Nov. 2, '17. Editor, Kingston Daily Freeman.

I beg to acknowledge, through the columns of your paper, the thanks of Company M to Mr. Hensen DuBois of W. Pierpont St., for the donation of records he has so kindly made us.

The five records arrived last evening and were immediately put in use. Mr. DuBois could have been present at that time to hear the three, he would realize, better than I can express it to him, how highly the men appreciate his kindness.

"Thanking you for this space in your paper, and hoping that other kind citizens of Kingston will follow the example of Mr. DuBois, I am Yours very truly, CHARLES T. DIXON, 1st Sgt. Co. M, 10th N. Y. Infantry.

NEW YORK DOUBLES NUMBER OF VOTERS

By Telegram to The Freeman.
New York, Nov. 7.—The great state of New York awoke today to find nearly 2,000,000 new voters within its borders.

Woman suffrage has won in New York, and latest indications are that it is carried by more than 80,000 votes, after 69 years of continuous effort since the first woman suffrage convention was held in the United States.

New York is the first of the great eastern states to grant women the ballot, and having won their fight, the suffragists of the Empire State now will turn their attention toward a federal amendment to enfranchise women throughout the United States.

Mrs. Norman deR. Whitehouse, chairman of the New York State Woman Suffrage Party, said today:

"The State Woman Suffrage Party has leased its headquarters for another year and will join with the National Suffrage Party to fight for a federal amendment which will enfranchise all of the women in the United States."

Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, chairman of the National Suffrage Party predicted that every woman in the country will be given the ballot within two more years.

The first effort on the part of New York women in behalf of suffrage was made in 1853 by Susan B. Anthony and a little handful of women who invaded Albany to urge "women's rights." The initial delegation made but a slight impression on the legislature and delegations which followed from year to year met with slight encouragement until 1885 when the suffrage bill got a majority, but not a constitutional majority.

Seven years later the suffragists saw a bill through the legislature which gave the women the vote for county school commissioners. It was but a small slice of the whole loaf, but it increased confidence. Since that time the suffrage movement has suffered several disappointing reverses but the cause kept gaining influential disciples and growing in momentum until it swept away opposition in Tuesday's election by a substantial majority.

It was estimated from latest returns that suffrage carried between 85 and 90 counties in the state. Albany county, seat of the state capital, dealt the amendment a severe blow, going against it 2 to 1. The cities, as a whole, did better for suffrage than the country districts. Buffalo, the largest city up-state, gave the cause a 6,000 majority, though Erie county broke about even on the question.

Greater New York put the suffrage amendment over with a heavy majority. The boroughs of Manhattan, Brooklyn and the Bronx gave suffrage a majority of about 60,000 with many election districts unheard from.

CHICAGO DEFEATS SOCIALIST TICKET

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Chicago, Nov. 7.—Chicago citizens today regard the overwhelming victory of the fusion Democratic-Republican ticket over Socialist candidates in yesterday's judgeship elections as a vindication of the city's loyalty and patriotism. The alleged anti-war attitude of the Socialist candidates was the most sharply defined issue of the campaign.

Latest returns have failed to change materially the estimates based upon early reports which placed the majority of the fusion candidates at an average of about 80,000 votes over their opponents. The total vote cast was 231,701. The fusion candidates averaged 157,000 to an average of 77,000 for the Socialist nominees.

The judges elected to the superior court are Michael L. McKinley, Dennis E. Sullivan, Joseph B. David, Joseph H. Frick, Henry Guerin, Jacob H. Hopkins, Albert C. Barnes, Charles M. Foell, William H. McSurely, Hugo Pam, Oscar Hebel and Marcus A. Kavanaugh. Frank Johnston, Jr., and Anton Zebel were elected circuit court judges. A $1,000,000 bond issue for road purposes was voted.

OHIO EXCISE VOTE IN DOUBT

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Columbus, O., Nov. 7.—While the women's presidential measure has been wiped off the statute books by a heavy majority incomplete returns early today indicated that the Prohibition issue was still in doubt. With 4,721 precincts returned to the dry headquarters the wets had a majority of 13,275. There are 1,044 precincts still to be heard from. Every indication was that neither side would win by much more than 5,000 votes.

On returns from 3,243 precincts, anti-suffragists led by 94,121. The precincts unreported in the prohibition fight are mostly in counties which have given substantial majorities to the drys.

In order to win, the drys must make an average gain of 14 in each of the precincts out.

The irrepressible Jazz Band is loose on a new Victor Dance Record

In case you have never heard a Jazz Band, we would say that it is a new kind of noise which superinduces a musical twitching of the feet, to be cured only by the "right partner and a smooth floor." Don't miss this record!

The two Fox Trot on it are "Old Grey Mare" and "Beale Street Blues."
